

Noon Briefing

June 22, 2018

Noon - 1 p.m.

Sharing Best Practices in Employee Engagement and Employee Recognition

Having a healthy workforce is critical to achieving the triple aim: delivering care that is timely, cost-effective and of the highest quality. Join us for a Noon Briefing on Friday, June 22, when representatives from Kansas hospitals will share best practices in employee engagement and employee recognition.

We know that there are many excellent strategies happening in Kansas hospitals and we are excited to be able to profile some of the practices that hospitals in Kansas are using to attract, engage and retain clinical talent in an increasingly competitive environment with predicted shortages.

Thank you to the staff at Holton Community Hospital, Holton; Hutchinson Regional Medical Center, Hutchinson; Newton Medical Center, Newton; and Ransom Memorial Hospital, Ottawa, who will share specific strategies in employee engagement and employee recognition.

Objectives to be covered include:

- Identifying why workforce planning today is different and more important than ever;
- Understanding correlations between engaged workers and patient satisfaction; and
- Learning how implementing different strategies can attract, engage, recognize and retain talent.
