Webinar Fee: No Charge

How do your hospital finances measure up?

- Do you know how your days cash on hand compares to other CAHs?
- Does your board have the information they need to make strategic financial decisions?
- Are you tired of relying on data that is two years old?

The QHi's financial benchmarking tool can help you answer these questions and more. This tool allows easy submission of current financial data, enabling quick monitoring and informed decision-making.

Join Healthworks and KHA for an educational session at 2:00 p.m. on May 2 to learn how to utilize QHi's financial benchmarking tool effectively. Shannan Flach, vice president health care finance and reimbursement and Sally Othmer, vice president data and strategic analytics will be joined by Wes Garrison, founder, Databasically to walk through the tool including the easy-upload process, reviewing the QHi financial measures available and to demonstrating how to run and schedule reports.

QHi, an enterprise-wide benchmarking program managed by Healthworks, is committed to improving the quality of care and financial viability of rural health care providers since 2003.

We encourage hospital CEOs, CFOs and other hospital financial leaders to participate in this webinar.
